It's Groundhog Day!

Numismagram Newsletter #165 (II/2026)

We're now into February and are back with another group of twelve medals added to our inventory. It's been a rather eventful start to this Groundhog Day already, as we've experienced no less than 19 earthquakes over the past hour or so. All have been fairly mild, with most not even noticeable without checking online that one had registered. That said, three did provide a bit of a jolt, one of which had a little sustained rattling. Here's hoping that they continue to on the milder side while the local fault line lets off some pressure. Meanwhile, some of the potentially earth-shattering additions that could be made to your collection include the following highlights:

FRANCE & EGYPT. Conquest of Lower Egypt silver Medal. Dated Year VII of the Republic (1798/9), but issued circa 1802. By Nicolas-Guy-Antoine Brenet at the Paris mint. PCGS MS-62.

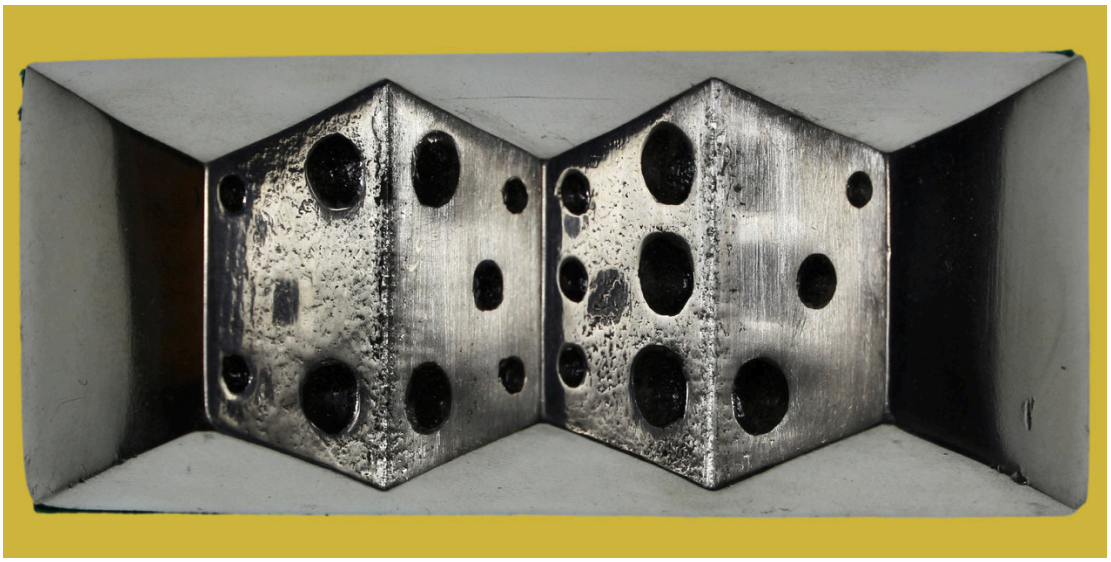
SPAIN. Córdoba. Mosque/Cathedral of Our Lady of the Assumption bronze Medal. Issued 1859. Most Remarkable Edifices of Europe series (59mm). By Jacques Wiener in Brussels and struck at the Geerts mint in Ixelles.

FRANCE. Paris International Expo bronze Award Medal. Issued 1900 as the official prize [awarded to the widow Greuillet-Baillargeau] (63mm). By Jules-Clément Chaplain at the Paris mint.

GERMANY. Paul von Hindenburg silver Medal. Issued 1925. Commemorating his Election as Reichspräsident. By the Ludwig Christian Lauer mint in Nürnberg. PCGS SP-63.

BELGIUM. World War II Art Deco bronze Medal. Issued 1945. Belgium is Grateful to the Liberating Armies (80mm). By Marcel Rau for Fiche Fonson.

FRANCE. Marquis de Sade bronze Medal. Issued 1969. Le Club Français de la Médaille series (71mm). By Henri Albert Lagriffoul at the Paris mint.



GREAT BRITAIN. "Double Dice" cast pewter and pigment Medal. Issued 2004 (84mm x 316mm x 18mm, 193 g). By Patrick Hughes for the British Art Medal Society, and cast by A. E. Williams. One of just 17 made.
